Welcome to my world

Good Morning Everyone,

I don't think we have had such beautiful weather here on the north east coastline since I returned here from London more than a decade ago, well not for more than a day or two at a time at any rate.

It is another beautiful day out so I think I may be speeding through the weekend housework today, so I can get back out in the sunshine this afternoon!

So it is hard to believe that today is the first of July & we have, what is reputed to be, the two hottest months of the summer ahead.

Image 1: The current 'Mono Flower' paper collection will come into its second week tomorrow so there are still three weeks worth on file to upload.

Image 2: One of those templates I was messing about with a few weeks ago, this one is a star shaped pillow box. Again no sample to show you, but as always I worked it all up on sheets & sheets of copier paper until I got it just right before creating the digital template for you.

Image 3: I think I already mentioned that there were another couple of sheets that I created using the butterfly that I uploaded for you last week?

This is a sheet of toppers with pink frames & I altered the colour of the frames by selecting the colours from the butterfly itself.

Image 4: The backing paper to accompany both this sheet of toppers & the sheet I already uploaded for you last week.

Image 5: There were only three of these oval decoupages on file so I am uploading two of them in the coming week & will upload the third & final one the following week.

Image 6: I think of all of the rose sheets I have designed this particular one is my favourite – could be that it is yellow I guess, but then so are some of the others?

Anyhow a beautiful yellow rose that I have layered up with complimentary mats to create a pretty topper, & then decoupage ready for you to add some 3D pads to give it dimension on your project.

You will need to have your craft knife ready as that final layer will be a bit tricky otherwise.

Image 7: The final sheet from the Alpine flower decoupage collection now, & when I get the final oval decoupage uploaded I can begin posting decoupages with themes other than flowers.

Image 8: The penultimate oval flower decoupage itself, & again you will need your craft knife to tackle the final layer.

I was tempted to make it easier for us both, I have to cut it out digitally & it is murder on the old eyes, but I just couldn't resist the challenge!

Image 9: The second in this little collection of six card kits in an array of colours & the box topper sheet.

Again, I will try to remember to get a box put together & typed up for you before I finish uploading the collection.

Image 10: The second & final stamping panel sheet I cut from the current paper collection for you & this is the bonus sheet that I will be uploading alongside this newsletter this morning.

Catch up with you all this afternoon for the update as usual.
