

The Paper Craft Tutor.com

Welcome to my world

Sunday, 08 July 2018

Good Morning Everyone,

It is a beautiful warm & sunny summer here on the north east coastline of the UK, which is a bit of a rarity; in fact it is the first one I remember since returning to the north more than a decade ago!

I didn't see the England mach yesterday as I was at my youngest great nephews third birthday party, but the men were indoors watching it so we women were kept abreast of the score while sitting out in the sunshine, watching the kids play on the bouncy castle.

This young squad are outshining their predecessors - who supposedly are the crème de la crème of English football, but putting all of those huge egos together on one squad has constantly proven to be a disaster.

Image 1: We are about half way through the current paper collection 'mono flowers' now, so about two weeks left to run.

Image 2: Now I have finished uploading the recent two floral collections: Alpine flowers & floral oval's, I can get back to some individual sheets. Here a pretty image of a lady at the garden gate.

Image 3: I took the sketchpad out into the garden the other day & came up with this anatomical drawing, so I canned it into the computer later where I could play with it & this is what I came up with.

Image 4: The background paper I created to go along with the previous sheet.

Image 5: I quite like how this card kit/decoupage topper sheet came out & as I had space on the page I added a smaller mirror imaged pair for you.

Image 6: I thought you may like the background paper that I created for the previous sheet.

Image 7: The next one in this collection of card kits, must write a note on my chalkboard door so I remember to get the worksheet for the box sorted this week, otherwise I will get to the end of the uploads & still not have done it!

Image 8: I have mentioned in the updates that I began work on Christmas 2018 recently, so with a bunch of stuff now in the file I thought I would start publishing them to the site with this one.

It contains six sheets in all, three background papers as well as two sheets of duo decoupage toppers & a final sheet with four mini sets of the same.

Image 9: You know how much I enjoy figuring out how to construct stuff & so another template, this one for a little briefcase/attaché case.

You could shrink down the sheet in your printer settings & create mini one's to use as embellishments too!

Image 10, 11 & 12: Now I am not running a bunch of collections & series all at the same time I thought we could get back to the sets I created which include the envelope.

There are four sets in this particular series, all of which have a decoupage sheet, backing sheet & envelope in the download.

Image 13: I was sorting through the files earlier in the week & deleting some that I decided I didn't like – this one almost went into the bin too but then I changed my mind & decided that I would use it as the bonus sheet to accompany the newsletter this morning!

So a magical little decoupage sheet featuring two little fairies playing amongst the flowers.

Catch up with you all again later for the update as usual.

Rita x