Good morning to you all

So now we are on the final leg.

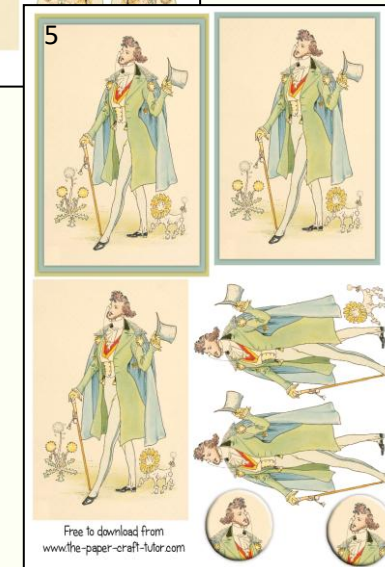

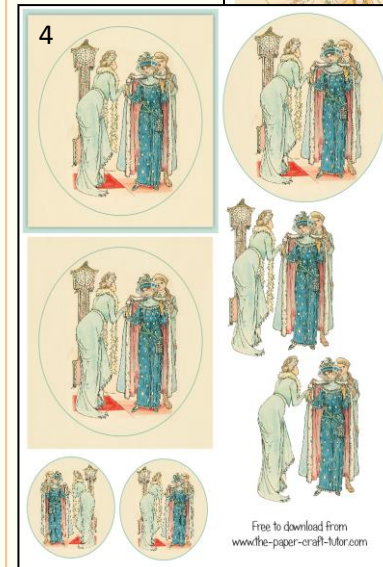

This week I will begin posting sheets from the final file that I created quite some time ago & as it was so big, simply never got around to uploading. There are approximately 32 sheets of decoupage; all but the one I am using as the bonus sheet this morning (Image 10) has a matching C6 envelope to accompany it.

This file will take us to the end of this month & then I will no longer interact with the website & it will deactivate at the end of the current contract on December 2nd, which gives you a month to download anything you want to keep before that time.

The entire file was created using vintage images from 'The Flower Folks Wedding', with some I used your favourite oval decoupage format whilst others are in regular decoupage format.

Image 2 gives you an example of the envelope made up & I will include a picture of one of the sheets over the page.

The remainder of the images are the decoupage sheets that I will be uploading in the coming week, with image 10 as the bonus sheet, as previously mentioned.

Have a good week & stay safe.
