Good morning to you all

There will only be one more newsletter next Sunday morning previewing what I have left to upload the following week, & then you will be on your own.

The site will remain active until December 2nd, giving you ample time to download anything you want before it closes down.

This week's uploads are another bunch of Flower Folks Wedding decoupages, each with their own matching envelope, but I have nine video's that I am going to load to site this morning that I posted on YouTube yesterday & here they are.....

1: Body butter window box; 2: Eight scented tea lights; 3: Lloyds hand gel; 4: Nine stacking tea light candles; 5: Trio of votives; 6: Palmolive travel size; 7: Travel sized duo; 8: Simple lotion; 9: Trio of stacked votives.

These are all still pretty raw as I haven't began looking for a video editing package yet, but it is at the top of my list. I also need to rewire my brain so I can include Imperial measurements in future video's, for my American audience.

Okay I am off to upload this & the videos to site. Catch up with you all later in the day.
